

MAHA SWAIDAN

Saida, Lebanon | +961 70 014 605 | maha.swaidan0@gmail.com

Personal Profile

I am a first-year Psychology student at the Lebanese University, living in Saida. I am seeking a part-time job after university hours to cover my expenses and gain valuable professional experience. I am passionate about mental health and committed to helping others. I have participated in voluntary work during the recent war and am an active member of the EU Jeel Connect youth network. I enjoy communicating with people from different backgrounds and aim to grow both personally and professionally through every opportunity.

Education

Lebanese University – Psychology Student (First Year)

High School Diploma – Sociology and Economics

Graduated with a score of 14.9

Experience

Voluntary Work – During the Recent War

Volunteered in a school hosting displaced people and helped them with their needs and daily activities.

Memberships

- Member of EU Jeel Connect youth network

Skills

- Communication skills
- Teamwork skills

Languages

- Arabic – Native
- English – Fluent

Interests

Mental health, volunteering, connecting with diverse people, community engagement